Ratepayers' Ire Roused by Snub From Chevrier

Minister Turns Down Appeal; "Not Couched in Proper Form"

(Special to The Colonist)

DUNCAN, Nov. 2—Because of a dispute over simple "John Canuck language" and Ottawa "Gobbledygook," a state of war now exists between the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association and the federal department of transport.

Note of militancy entered the picture after the ratepayers' president, George E. Bonner, on Oct. 27 appealed to both Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and the transport department in regard to a proposed increase in telegraph rates.

In answer to the request to exclude Vancouver Island from the increase, Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier wired that the appeal was rejected because "it was not couched in the proper form."

For the association, Mr. Bonner replied: "Our telegram of appeal was made in the language of John Canuck and we feel that it should receive attention just as readily phrased in the language of the common people of this country as if couched in any other form.

GIVE ATTENTION

"We would be glad, therefore, if you would give this appeal the same attention as if made in the terms you suggest in your wire, and be so good as to place the matter before the governor-in-council."

Mr. Bonner told The Colonist that Mr. Chevrier said "the proper form" for such a petition should be in accordance with Section 52 of the Railway Act.

"I don't know offhand what the section demands," said Mr. Bonner, "but why should we go through all that paraphernalia when we've already made our appeal in simple, easy-to-understand terms?

"We feel that we've made a straightforward request and we intend to fight it out to the end," he said.

Prime Minister Holds Talks With Harriman

LONDON, Nov. 2 (Reuters)—Averell Harriman, President Truman's special envoy, paid a flying visit to London today and for six hours discussed world problems with Winston Churchill and three of his top cabinet men.

Precautions were taken to prevent any news leaks from the closed-door session, but three main topics are thought to have been covered:

Plans for a personal meeting between Mr. Churchill and President Truman.

Whether 1954 may have to be abandoned as target year for fulfilling the Atlantic Pact rearmament plans because of the strain on Western Europe's economy.

The Iranian oil crisis and Britain's troubles in Egypt, with their impact on western plans for creating a Middle East command.

Eisenhower Flying to U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was flying home from Europe tonight for a quick round of Washington talks he said would be "strictly military."

Canadian Brigade Status Subject of Bonn Parley

BONN, Germany, Nov. 2 (Reuters)—Canadian representatives and the British high commission for Germany Monday will discuss arrangements for stationing Canada's 27th infantry brigade in West Germany, British officials announced here tonight.

Whether the Canadian brigade, now on its way to the British zone in Germany, will have the status of occupation forces or not is still undecided.

While Canada believes the brigade should become part of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Atlantic defense forces, not an occupation unit, British policy is against troops not on occupation duty being stationed under their command in Germany.

Since accommodation for Allied forces in Germany is paid out of occupation costs, the British would scarcely be willing to see an ally, lacking occupation status, paying such costs from its own pocket.

In Ottawa, officials are hopeful that talks on Monday in Bonn will let Canada know just where she stands.

T. C. Davis, Canada's ambassador in Bonn, and Alex Ross, representative on the Atlantic Pact budget committee in London, will confer Monday with the British high commissioner.

This is an extension of talks which have been going on in an effort to work out arrangements under which Canada's wishes can be met even though the occupation may not end for some months.

The Army says the 5,500 soldiers of the brigade likely will be able to travel in all Atlantic Pact countries in Europe without special passports.

It said the external affairs department has made representations to Canada's allies which, if approved, will enable the Canadians to travel in those countries in uniform, carrying only leave authorization and personal identification cards.

That would include France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Britain and Italy.

A-Blast Soldier Scared to Toes

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 2 (CP)—The reaction of troops within 10 miles of an atomic explosion was described today at a press conference.

"I was scared right down to my toes just before the blast and after," said Sgt. William Roberts, 23, a Korean veteran.

The concussion was strong, Roberts said, but not as strong as in close bombing and artillery fire in Korea.

Another soldier was asked how he'd like to parachute after an A-bomb blast. He said:

"I wouldn't be afraid to jump. I think I would feel better with an A-bomb clearing the way for us first. We would have less trouble when we got down."

Smiles for the Princess

Princess Elizabeth trades smiles with the children among crowds outside the British Embassy in Washington, as the Royal couple arrived for a reception there. It was a major stop during the couple's Washington stay.—(CP photo.)

Friendly Exchange of Gifts Ends Royal Visit in Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh left for Canada today, assured by President Truman that never before had the United States been visited by "such a wonderful young couple."

The official good-byes were said in the White House rose garden, on a cold, misty day. But Mr. Truman beamed warmly as he told the Royal couple:

"We have many distinguished visitors here in this city, but never before have we had such a wonderful young couple that so completely captured the hearts of all of us."

He told them to come back soon and bring the children.

Mr. Truman said a world with no war will depend in a great measure on how well Britain and the United States work and stick together.

"I am sure" he said, "that we will do a better job for world peace because your visit here has lightened the bonds between us."

ESCORT THANKED

A few moments later they were whisked to the airport. Before they boarded the plane for Montreal Princess Elizabeth shook hands with each of the motorcycle police who had escorted her about Washington.

In a jam-packed day today they saw the Washington Cathedral, the Supreme Court building, the Library of Congress, and the House and Senate in a whirlwind windup to their 45-hour visit.

Crowds waited in the cold to cheer the pair at each stop. Elizabeth was dressed in green hat, coat and dress and Philip wore a double-breated blue suit.

Real purpose of the White House visit was to present Mr. Truman with a candelabra and a looking glass for the renovated White House, gifts from the King.

"We have spent two very happy days as your guests." Princess Elizabeth told Mr. Truman. "I feel this ceremony makes a fitting climax to what has been a delightful and memorable occasion for both of us."

Mr. Truman also gave the couple some small personal gifts, including a large close-up photograph of the Princess taken by The Associated Press last night and a photograph of himself, autographed to both of them.

Tree Heeds Tradition, Blooms for Princess

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A thorn tree said by tradition to date back to the time of Christ and to bloom when Royalty is near has put forth four blossoms—with Princess Elizabeth here.

The tree is Washington Cathedral's Glastonbury thorn. That tree, according to legend, grew from the staff of Joseph of Arimathea, the man who took Christ down from His Cross. Joseph is said to have gone to the British Isles, and, where Glastonbury now stands, to have thrust his staff into the ground to claim the isles for Christ. The staff, the story goes, took root, and grew into the Glastonbury thorn.

In the Middle Ages it became custom to pluck a bloom from the revered tree when Royalty came near, and present the flower in a silver box.

JUST AT CHRISTMAS

Canon Charles Martin, headmaster of St. Alban's School at Washington Cathedral, an Episcopal church, told The Washington Post the cathedral thorn had three times bloomed when Royalty visited Washington. Other times, it is said, it blooms only at Christmas.

The Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh visited the cathedral today and Princess Elizabeth received a bloom from the famous thorn, in a tiny silver box.

Couple Begin Brief Holiday

STE. AGATHE DES MONTS, Que., Nov. 2 (CP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh returned to Canada today in a snowstorm.

At a quiet, private estate in the heart of the Laurentian Mountains tonight they began a week end rest. Monday, they start the final lap of the Royal tour that began October 8. It has carried them to the West Coast and to Washington. Next week, they swing into the Maritimes.

Light snow was falling when their plane reached Dorval Airport at Montreal at 3.43 p.m. After brief formalities and a chat with a number of the 1,200 crippled children on hand for the arrival, the Princess and her husband set out by car, for Ste. Agathe.

Youth Arrested In Car Case

Arrest of Lawrence R. Sharrat, 19, of Sidney, on six charges of taking cars without the owners' consent was reported last night by Central Saanich Police Chief Verpon J. Lawley.

Chief Lawley said six cars had been taken from Saanichton Wharf in the past two months. The cars, belonging to workers on James Island, were broken into, driven away with the ignition wires crossed and returned before the workers came off shift.

A joyrider has also been blamed for damaging nine other cars, and turning one over in a ditch, the chief said.

He said Sharrat was arrested in his Sidney home after Sidney High School girls saw a man take a car from the wharf parking lot.

Free on $200 bail, Sharrat will be formally charged this morning, Chief Lawley said, and will come before Magistrate A. I. Thomas for trial on Monday.

Mother, Child Escape Fire

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP)—Mrs. Earl Williams, 17-year-old mother, escaped without injury today with her four-months-old daughter when fire swept her bungalow home.

Seconds later, both doors of the house were blocked by flames.

Mrs. Williams was washing baby clothes when she heard the crackle of flames. She snatched daughter Valerie from a crib and reached safety ahead of the fast-spreading fire.

Crack British Units Flown Into Egypt

Canal Guards Increased As End to Crisis Sought

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 2 (AP)—A fresh British infantry brigade poured into the Suez Canal zone from Libya by airlift today in the biggest R.A.F. transport operation since the Berlin blockade.

Troops of the First Division's Guards Brigade, in desert battle dress, landed in groups of 60 at 10-minute intervals at Fayid to reinforce the estimated 10,000 British soldiers holding the canal against Egyptian threats and harassment.

The operation adds perhaps 4,000 or 5,000 men to the garrisons and consolidates the First Division in the zone. One of its three brigades was stationed there when Egypt canceled her treaties with Britain Oct. 8 in a move to oust the British; the second was moved in recently from Cyprus.

SETTLEMENT BIDS

In London, official sources said backstage moves are under way to settle the British-Egyptian crisis by direct meetings in Paris. They said Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will meet Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah el Din Pasha while both are attending the U.N. Assembly opening in Paris Tuesday. Mr. Eden is expected to talk first with Secretary of State Acheson and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, who support the British position.

Reluctance of the Arab countries to support Egypt's lead against a western-led defense project has been reported generally in the Egyptian newspapers.

Today the opposition weekly Akher Lahza published what looked like an open slap at the government. It said the Arab countries outside Egypt, in taking time to study the western defense project, should not be criticized for "not taking a hasty step in a matter which may affect their future for many generations."

"Is it not possible," it asked, "that, finding themselves hardly prepared for any real defense against foreign aggression, they have decided to make an attempt whereby they may secure aid for reinforcement of their armies?"

The first plane flying into the British air base at Fayid today brought crack Coldstream Guards, fully armed and ready for desert fighting. Following were battalions of the Queen's Own and Cameron Highlanders and Grenadiers.

Meanwhile, at Port Said, the Egyptian labor boycott brought ship cargo handling operations to a standstill. Movement of ships through the canal continued under British navy supervision despite paralysis of the port at the Mediterranean end of the 101-mile-long canal.

Pin Lost in Forest Found in a Flash

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP)—Lady Luck smiled on C. A. Roberts of Seattle.

He went sightseeing yesterday on Vancouver's mountainous north shore and while riding the chairlift on the slopes of Hollyburn Ridge lost a $3,000 diamond stickpin.

Roberts remembered seeing a flash while traveling over part of the route.

Then came a chance in a million. The diamond pin was found embedded in a fallen tree trunk, far below the lift.

Spot Wreck

KODIAK, Alaska, Nov. 2 (AP)—Wreckage which may be the missing tug Kotzebue has been sighted on the north shore of the Bering Sea's storm-swept St. Lawrence Island, U.S. Coast Guard officials reported today.

The vessel, with six men believed to be aboard, has been missing since Monday.

Klondyke Bill Dies

TORONTO, Nov. 2 (CP)—William (Klondyke Bill) Engel, 74, a mail carrier in the Yukon during the gold rush days more than 50 years ago, is dead. Behind a dog team, covering 40 miles a day, he mushed the dangerous Chilkoot Pass many times.

Opposition Groups Join Against Price-Fix Move

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—The three Opposition groups today joined forces in the Commons to criticize a government plan to establish a committee to consider anti-price fixing legislation.

Justice Minister Stuart Garson said a Senate-Commons committee would be able to weigh arguments for and against legislation that would prohibit manufacturers from fixing the retail prices of their products.

Spokesmen for the Opposition said the committee proposal was a move by the government to delay action in the hope that prices would go down.

John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre said there was no justification for establishing a committee to consider the recommendations of a special commission appointed to study the combines legislation.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said his party is not going to agree to any further stalling in this matter.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said the government's committee proposal was being described as a "red herring," a deliberate effort to sidestep the cost-of-living issue.

A motion by Mr. Diefenbaker that would have given the proposed Senate-Commons committee power to examine all parts of the anti-combines legislation was ruled out of order.

Ottawa Stalls, Bengough Says

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 2 (CP)—Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, said today the Federal government's decision on the maintenance of retail prices is "just a stall."

Small Attacks Gain for Reds

U.S. 8TH ARMY HQ., Korea, Nov. 3 (Saturday) (AP)—Communist troops Friday threw in small yet savage attacks along most of the snow-blanketed front but ground out only minor gains.

In the air, Allied jets and Russian-made Migs fought nine duels over northwest Korea. The U.S. Fifth Air Force said one Mig was shot down and four were damaged without loss to Allied planes.

A Munsan report said buffer zone talks in the Korean armistice negotiations narrowed down Friday to one main issue: the status of Communist-held Kaesong, just south of Parallel 38.

Young Hermit Quits Mountain Home, Dazzles U.S. Army in Aptitude Test

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 2 (INS)—A 26-year-old hermit who has just had his first taste of civilization was sworn into the army today and outstripped most high school graduates in the armed forces qualification test.

Peter Grainger, who recently left his remote cabin home in northern New Mexico and claims his only education came from his father, another prospector and some 200 books they gave him, scored a 93 on the test.

Army officers said the average high school graduate scores about 35, and only a score of 65 is required for officer candidate school.

The tall, muscular mountaineer told army officers a strange tale of living in the wilds atop a New Mexico mountain all his life until deciding to come down and join the army after his father died last May.

"I buried paw atop a mountain," he drawled, "and then set out to join the army."

When he left his mountain home, he was dressed in home-made sheepskin pants with a shawl over his shoulders, the only clothes he owned.

Grainger left his one-room rock and straw-thatched hut astride a mule. He declared he lived on goat meat and dry ground corn during part of the trip.

The young mountaineer said that, when his mule died, he took the saddle, a .45 Colt pistol and a 30-30 rifle and continued on foot for ten days until he arrived at a mountain road and flagged a car.

"I was a bit scairt to get near them at first," he admitted.

Grainger declared it was the first time he had been in a car.

The two men in it bought his guns and saddle for $24, gave him a flannel shirt, slacks and his first pair of shoes to replace his homemade clothes, and then took him to a barber shop for a shave and haircut.

Regarding his army life, Grainger commented:

"I thought they'd just give me a uniform and a gun and send me out to fight."

Nanaimo Pubs Closing Doors

(Special)

NANAIMO, Nov. 2—It's all over for the beer drinkers in Nanaimo. The pubs will all be dry by Saturday night.

At noon Friday two taverns were open, but a third remained closed until 4 p.m. All of these were serving only bottled beer.

East-West Peace Evoked

TOKYO, Nov. 3 (Saturday) (Reuters)—Premier Chou En Lai of Communist China today was quoted by Peiping radio as saying East and West can live peacefully side by side.

"The people of our country consider that countries of diverse social systems all over the world can exist peacefully side by side," the radio said, quoting from a speech Chou En Lai made Oct. 25 in Peiping to the National Committee of the People's Consultative Political Conference.

Chou said China needed peace to secure her development.

ALLABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

Husband-hunting girls should arrange dates for lunch, because a woman blossoms most brightly when the clock strikes noon.

After that time, says Hollywood photographer Leo Tover, she begins to wilt.

Tover has photographed the stars at all hours. Recently he made a series of test photographs of women in the same costume at different times.

"Immediately after breakfast they looked rather unglamorous," he said. "Their eyes were puffy from sleep."

"As the morning passed they looked more and more beautiful until the peak was reached at lunchtime. At 10 p.m., in a kind of Indian summer of beauty, their looks improved for a while, reaching a second peak of attractiveness.

"I wish I could photograph all scenes around lunchtime. There is no doubt about it—lunch is the time for romance."

The idea of a woman waxing and waning through the 24 hours like the moon in a month is a fascinating one. If it is true, women should not be told about it. Beauty is their stock in trade. Either they will apply extra layers of make-up as the day grows older until they look like Hallowe'en masks with lipstick, or they will go into hibernation for 23 hours of the day, [illegible] all duties and emerge in their finest hour.

Regardless of what Tover says, lunch is not the time for romance. Lunch is the time for lunch. As Kipling said, a woman is only a woman, but a good hamburger is a meal. Anyway, he said something like that.

What will happen to candles and the moon, those fine, hackneyed aids to harmony between the sexes? What will happen to [illegible] fine thing at a time, I say.

When hardworking males are trying to snatch a few minutes' relaxation at lunch-time, their nerves will be jangled and their digestions ruined by the mating call of harpies prowling for a husband.

What with girls fluttering their eyelashes and striking poses all about the place, there won't be space to move. More and more men will bring sandwiches to work, and eat them in the men's smoking room.

Women shouldn't be told what Tover said. Come to think of it, men shouldn't be told either.

"I know what you look like at lunch, Honey," they would say to their fiancees, "but you're not fooling me, kid. I want to know what you look like at breakfast."

This might create any number of embarrassing scenes.

Unfortunately, Tover's wild notions have already been published in The Daily Mirror, London, which has a circulation of more than 4,000,000. So the damage has already been done.

That blinding concentration of beauty at noon will be too much for most men to bear. It will be worse than sitting in the front row at the Follies.

The Mexicans have a good notion—they take a siesta. The Mohammedans have an even better notion. They put veils on women all the time.

Lakehill Community Club spokesmen tell me they didn't ban Cubs from the Community Hall regardless of complaints from parents of Cubs printed in this column. The Cubs left voluntarily, they say.

The Cubs have been offered the use of the hall again whenever they can be fitted into the booking schedule. There is an alternative plan to make the old fire hall available to them.

Community Club members are a little sour because only 50 of a possible 1,000 belong to their organization. "Where's your community spirit?" they ask a number of people, including me. I haven't joined yet.

*Samuel C. Lewis, 46, is a farmer living near Kars, Ontario. Born on a neighbouring farm, he was educated in a rural school and married Margaret Hyland, also of Kars. They have an 11-year-old daughter, Joan. Mr. Lewis has a 100-acre farm and 20 head of cattle. He ships milk to Ottawa. A brother lives in London, Ontario, and another brother and a sister in Ottawa.

MR. SAMUEL C. LEWIS...

Do you own your farm, Mr. Lewis?
Yes. I took over it from my mother about 25 years ago.

Do you like farming?
Yes. I sure wouldn't be at it if I didn't.

Do you believe in saving?
Oh, yes.

How do you save?
Mainly by Canada Savings Bonds. I buy several every time they are on sale.

Why do you buy these Bonds?
I can lay my hand on them whenever I need money.

Why do you prefer them to other forms of investment?
I consider them safest. I could invest my money in other ways that would bring in more at greater risk, but I want to be sure of a safe investment and a steady revenue.

Have you cashed any of the Canada Savings Bonds you bought?
Yes. I did once because I needed some extra money to buy a new tractor.

How do you pay for the Bonds?
When they're on sale, I take what spare money I have from my bank account and buy the bonds outright.

Do you plan to buy some more this Fall?
Yes.

NOW BETTER THAN EVER

Canada Savings Bonds—6th Series—mature in 10 years and 9 months from date of issue and bear ten 3½% coupons. The first coupon covers 1 year and 9 months and is payable on August 1st, 1953, subsequent coupons come due August 1st yearly thereafter until maturity. If cashed before August 1st, 1953, simple interest is paid at 2% per year, calculated monthly. If held to maturity the overall yield is equivalent to 3.21% per year. The limit for holdings in any one name is $5,000 in the 6th Series. The bonds are cashable at full face value, plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada. They are registered in the owner's name. They are non-assignable and non-transferable.

Pearson May Preside Over U.N. Assembly

PARIS, Nov. 2 (CP)—Canada's External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson arrived here today for the United Nations General Assembly and immediately loomed as a candidate for presidency of the sixth assembly meeting here next Tuesday.

Although Mr. Pearson denied that he was a candidate, informed sources say there might be an attempt to draft him.

Meanwhile, at Liverpool, England, five other Canadians in search of peace arrived today in the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France.

They were Major-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., F. H. Larson, Colin Bennett, Senator J. B. Hurtubise and M. Bourget, all members of Canada's delegation to the U.N. assembly.

"We are looking for peace," said Gen. Pearkes. "We are going to try to co-operate in every possible way."

The party will leave for Paris tomorrow morning.

Six Canadians Named in List

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—The army today issued its 70th casualty list of the Korean war, reporting six men wounded in action.

This brought to 408 the total number of casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korean action, including 87 dead.

Steep Clothing Price Rise Pushes Index Up Slightly

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—A sharp climb in clothing prices provided main steam for a six-tenths-of-a-point climb in the cost-of-living index during September.

The increase, bringing the index to a peak 190.4 from 189.8 during August, was the smallest in five months.

A feature of the September index, reported by the Bureau of Statistics today, was a drop in the food sub-index, the second in two months. Lower meat and egg prices offset small increases for other items.

"Other family budget items in the index, based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, were slightly higher, including coal, theatre tickets and health care. Rents are not surveyed.

On the wholesale side, the bureau's index for 30 industrial material prices reversed its downward trend in the four previous months and moved up. So did the index for farm products.

The clothing sub-index jumped 6.9 points to a peak of 213.8. This resulted from a survey which showed higher prices for fall and winter clothing.

Oddities

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2 (AP)—Three years' scrutiny of 21 schoolboys has convinced Paul Klinge, high school biology teacher, that a pupil's build sizes him up about as well as aptitude tests.

He told the Indiana Academy of Science today his typing of physical build and temperament support such time-honored beliefs as:

A fat boy is usually happy-go-lucky.

The muscular boy is likeliest to get in trouble.

Thin boys are more critical of their teachers.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2 (AP)—A window manufacturer is going to help sandlot baseball and football players who break windows in adjoining buildings. Frank C. Russell, head of the F. C. Russell Company, said that as a result of his own youthful experiences, he would replace the panes free of charge.

Motorist Picks Jail

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP)—Ralph Wolloschuk tonight went to jail rather than pay a fine for an offense which is no longer an offense.

Several months ago, he was fined $5 and costs or three days in jail for failing to use a signal on his car which was visible to other motorists. He used flashing light signals.

The case received wide publicity in British Columbia and the law was changed to permit use of "flasher-type" signals.

Wolloschuk appealed the conviction but lost.

He surrendered to police today, but they said he would be released tomorrow.

Newfoundland To Hold Vote November 26

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 2 (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood today set November 26 as the date for Newfoundland's second general election as a Canadian province.

The Liberal leader told the Legislature that the House will be dissolved tomorrow and the election proclamation issued. Nomination day is November 16.

Mr. Smallwood, the man who campaigned to bring Newfoundland into Confederation, led the Liberals to victory in the 1949 contest when his followers captured 22 seats. Progressive Conservatives five and an Independent, one.

Present standing, however, sees the Liberals with 20 seats as the result of former Finance Minister Herman Quinton's appointment to the Senate and the switch of former Resources Minister Edward Russell to an Independent.

Ships' Officers Erase Threat

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Ships' officers erased a midnight strike deadline today, sparing the snarled east coast a grave new ship tieup.

Union President Charles F. May said negotiations will continue and there will be no officers walkout until strike-bound east coast ports return to normal.

The ports of New York and Boston already are tied up by a record 19-day wildcat strike of A.F.L. longshoremen. A vital defence cargo of nickel was turned away at New York during the day. A government plea to unload it came too late.

FREE MEAL

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—A partridge provided a meal for Mrs. Susan Mose without a shot being fired. The bird crashed into the outside wall of the Mose residence and was caught as it lay stunned on the ground.

Discovery May Spot Early Cancer

TORONTO, Nov. 2 (CP)—A blood-test method of spotting cancer in its earliest stages may have been found by a University of Toronto research team.

The Ontario division of the Canadian Cancer Society said today Dr. E. W. McHenry and his co-workers have established that the amount of glutamic acid in the blood of cancer patients is higher than in other persons.

The value of the discovery is not yet know positively. There is a chance that the glutamic acid content of the blood increases with other diseases. That now will be studied by the university team.

But the Ontario division's press release said the research so far indicates doctors may ultimately get a means of finding cancer easily and early. So far the only positive diagnosis has been pathological examination of a malignant growth.

Dr. McHenry, the university's professor of public health nutrition, was the only research man named in the press statement. However, he asked newspapermen to give most credit to two of his research team—26-year-old J. R. Beaton and Dr. W. J. McGanity.

Prince Robert House Lesson

WITH characteristic dalliance the city seems to have painted itself into a corner over Prince Robert House. The corporation quarreled with the Navy League of Canada, which was making an intelligent and appreciated use of the premises; turned down a sale of the property at $45,000, what develops now to have been a very fair offer; and now on every count wishes that it hadn't. To refit the building for any transient purpose whatever would require $10,000; to remodel it for specific use might run to $50,000; and no private owner appears to want it as it stands. So, willy nilly, the city is the landlord of abandoned premises which stand like a vacant barn on one of the best retail streets of the town.

It is not the first time that civic indecision has left the taxpayers with another white elephant; but further proof, were any needed, that the corporation is badly in need of a lands policy which means something and which will be adhered to. The guiding principle in that should be development of the community by private enterprise, at private risk. The city is in no position to gamble with its holdings, and has no mandate whatever to do so. It should be in position at all times to know what the actual value of its property is, and to accept that offer when it is bid. In no other way can this growing and disastrous exemption from taxes be kept from mounting as in the past few years it has.

For the $45,000 the city was offered for Prince Robert House, ten to twenty times that sum might have been spent upon the property through subsequent development in private hands. While the city itself might do that perhaps once, only private initiative could afford to do so on a community-wide scale. While it ponders the problem of neglected chances, the city might well reflect upon the sharp lesson conveyed. At one time Victoria owned more than 3,000 parcels of tax-default land within city limits, and its collections fell very hard indeed upon the solvent taxpayers remaining. Nobody wishes to see those days again. Beyond some necessary reserves for straight civic purposes, the corporation should put idle properties back into the business stream as a matter of principle.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

WITH a great many of us the thought of a wild creature dying a natural death never occurs. It has been drilled into our natures, across thousands of years in which most of us lived by killing wild game, that the only way a deer or a duck dies is by the hand of man.

This is absurd, of course. The same ratio of death to birth is maintained in the wilds as it is amongst us humans. It is true that a great many wild animals and birds are shot and trapped by man, professionally and for sport. But that is a mere flea-bite to the age-old process of nature that operates in all living things, including man. A deer, a wolf, a fox, grows old as dogs, cows and horses do. But there is no pasture, no stable for the wild things. Whatever mercy from man there may be for an old cow or an old horse when its useful days are done, in nature there is none. When an animal begins to grow old menace rises about him on every hand. The wolves and bears extend nature's mercy to the larger creatures who begin to fail. The hawks and owls attend to the smaller.

In most wilderness areas, only a small part of which is ever touched by man either as a commercial trapper or as a sportsman, creatures mature, grow old and die in a fairly even proportion to those of their species that are being born. Among themselves they have worked out a system of preying on one another, so that rarely do you ever find a really old and worn out wild creature. Even among the competent, like the wolf and the bear, out of scores that I have seen dead only one bear and two wolves showed any signs of age. It must be an anxious business to be an elderly wolf or bear. Knowing what they know, it must be an eerie experience to lie down at night.

Mr. Doble a Logical Choice

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of Mr. Robert Doble's appointment to the newly-created position of city traffic engineering assistant is likely to be received with general approval by those who are familiar with his valuable work in Victoria this year. With three well-qualified candidates for the position, the city's selection cannot have been an easy one to make; but on the whole the final choice appears to be logical.

Mr. Doble will begin his duties with an understanding of the traffic problems now confronting the city and those which are bound to arise in future as development extends. His recent report, based on a five-month survey of all aspects of the city's traffic, stands out as the most comprehensive study of the subject ever attempted here. Much of Victoria's traffic difficulties result from lack of foresight in the past, and the recommendations with which Mr. Doble closed his report add up to the first really integrated program of traffic management and planning yet presented. It seems wholly practical that the man who framed the proposals should be the one to carry out those which the city may approve.

It remains to be seen how much authority Mr. Doble will be allowed to exercise, however. The title of traffic engineering assistant given to his post certainly leads to an inference that his authority will be limited, at the start anyway. To handle effectively the duties of traffic co-ordination and engineering the appointee should have the status of a superintendent, answerable directly to the city manager without having to incur the delays of going through other departments. The appointment of a traffic official with "assistant" status is a start, however; and perhaps later, when the character of his duties has been fully assessed, the council will be prepared to delegate the wider authority which they appear to require.

Ability Is Found Everywhere

IT HAS been suggested, by a lawyer, that the chairman of the Labor Relations Board should be a lawyer. Why so? The legal profession has no monopoly on good sense, good judgment, the ability to sum up facts, or any other of the qualities desirable in the incumbent of such a post.

Far from being a lawyer, it is perhaps a good thing the present chairman is not one. Labor has been known to complain about the preponderance of lawyers in governing circles of various kinds, and since the business of the L.R.B. is to deal with labor problems and labor problems alone, it would seem in the present instance to be a happy situation that the head of the board is not a member of the legal profession. In point of fact labor union comment when he was appointed stressed this very circumstance as being in his favor.

The statement that when it comes to reducing terms of agreement to writing a lawyer is skilled above all others is also open to question. Here again it can be said that the legal profession has no monopoly; the virtue of competent written expression is to be found in other ranks as well as theirs. Indeed, some people go so far as to think that if the arguments that follow so many legal documents are a criterion, particularly those associated with legislation as recurrent amendments make amply evident, there may sometimes be a definite advantage in the non-legal drafting of documents.

The ways of society in general are considerably at the discretion of lawyers as it is, there seems to be no real object in aggravating the present state of affairs.

Sitka Story

By FRANK KELLEY

A TELEPHONE call some weeks ago asked me to write something, if I knew anything, about Sitka's story prior to the purchase of the Territory of Alaska from Russia by the United States. That was slightly before my time. Sitka was the old capital, centre of the Russian occupation, which started officially in 1825, although the land had been exploited by the Slavs more or less since Bering explored its coasts in the eighteenth century.

On a certain date in the month of October, the 17th to be exact, Alaska celebrates what has come to be known as Alaska Day. On that date, apparently, in the year 1868, these simple words were spoken: "I, General Rousseau, by authority from His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, transfer to the United States the Territory of Alaska."

* * *

Although widely termed "Seward's Folly" by many of his countrymen, the then U.S. Secretary of State W. H. Seward had engineered what was probably the smartest real estate deal on behalf of Uncle Sam, noted for smart land transactions, in the history of the republic. For a matter of $7,200,000, paid in gold on August 1, 1868, the United States purchased Alaska, all rights to it having been ceded to the vendor by Great Britain in 1825. The area is still something like 580,400 square miles, its name having been derived from an Esquimo word, "Al-ay-es-ka," meaning Great Country.

Alaska Day is officially observed at Sitka, where the Russian flag fell from the tall flag-pole in front of the governor's castle into the custody of a bayonet-carrying detachment of Russian soldiers; and in its place rose the Stars and Stripes, hoisted as a mark of courtesy by the young son of General Rousseau. That flag is now preserved in the territorial museum at Juneau.

* * *

Having seen Sitka on only one occasion, and briefly enough at that, one could hardly be expected to possess much knowledge of the place. I have been told much about it, however, by old-timers familiar with the scene, and read a lot more of its story over the years. To one at all interested in Northwest coast history, the old Russian centre oozes romance of a kind; for the days of the Russian governors, from the time Baranov built his castle on the hill-top above the town until the last governor lowered his flag, were decidedly colorful.

Governor Etolin was a particularly active administrator, promoting all manner of community projects for his capital and the territory generally. There was a club-house for bachelor employees, quarters for married couples, library facilities were provided, and buildings erected for the accommodation of scientists, their maps and equipment. Greek and Lutheran Churches catered to the spiritual needs, while a sawmill and a flour-mill operated.

* * *

There was also a tannery in the old town, where deer-skins and hides from California were made into leather; while kilns away out on Cook Inet, where a coal mine was also started, supplied the old capital with bricks. Among other industries flourishing were copper and blacksmith shops. There was a shipyard, too, where considerable repair work was carried on.

All in all, the panorama presented by the story of Sitka is one of color and movement. According to the record, the old town maintained schools for boys and girls, including primary groups and a theological seminary. Hospitals had a place in the Russian administration, as did art galleries. That is what the leaves of Sitka's history book disclose. What a contrast was this one-time bit of Russia in America to the record the Russians of today are writing, if all accounts be true, in the land of the Soviets.

Reports From Ottawa

THE half-dozen "unofficial Liberals" who were elected to Parliament in the last two years are slowly making their peace with the party, but they're finding it no easy road back to grace.

They are men who rebelled against the candidates their party selected, offered themselves as alternative Liberal candidates, and won.

There were 12 such candidates in the 1949 general election, but only one, Raymond Bruneau, of Prescott, Ont., was successful.

Of the eight by-elections in the "little general election" on October 24, 1949, three were won by such unofficial Liberals. Prime Minister St. Laurent refused to introduce the three rebels to the Speaker of the Commons. The party withheld patronage from them, and they were not invited to attend Liberal caucuses. But despite that warning, two more unofficial Liberals entered the Commons via by-elections in the fall of 1950. They too got the cold shoulder.

* * *

Before such an outcast may be accepted into the Liberal fold here, he must make his peace with the party organization in his riding.

Four have done that, and are now accepted by the Liberal majority in the Commons as genuine all-wool-and-a-yard-wide Grits. They are Bruneau of Prescott, Edgar Leduc of Jacques Cartier, Que., J. H. Rosseau of Rimouski, Que., and Arthur Masse of Kamouraska, Que.

However, Hector Dupuis of Montreal-St. Mary's and P. L. Dube of Restigouche-Madawaska, N.B., are still outside the fold, and the latter at least appears likely to remain there.

The trouble with Dube, the Liberals say, is that he is not a genuine Liberal. He opposed the Liberal candidate in his constituency in elections in 1933 and 1945—first as a Conservative, and then as a Social Crediter.

But ideological peregrinations are not an absolute bar to acceptance by the Liberals, as witness the case of Rene Arsenault, M.P. for Bonaventure, Que. In Prime Minister Bennett's day he was editor of the Conservative party's newspaper in Quebec. He was defeated as a Conservative candidate for the Quebec Legislature in 1931 and 1935. He was unsuccessful National government (Conservative) candidate in the federal election of 1940. From 1942 to 1944 he was president of the Progressive Conservative Association in Quebec.

He ran as an independent in 1945 and won. The night of his election he wired Prime Minister Mackenzie King, saying he would adhere to the Liberal party and policies, and was welcomed with open arms. Re-elected as a Liberal in 1949, he's now as staunch a Grit as any you'll find to the right of Mr. Speaker.

* * *

WHEN the King and Queen visited Washington a dozen years ago, members of the Congress were presented to them on Capitol Hill. Most amusing incident was when a southern senator extended his hand with a "Howdy, cousin George. Howdy, cousin Elizabeth."

A Canadian mayor almost equalled that when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visited his city recently. His court manners were perfect when he was presented to them. He bowed, shook hands, and addressed each as "Your Royal Highness," but a little later he was heard to say, sotto voce, to the Princess:

"Say, I don't have to go around all day calling you 'Your Royal Highness', do I? I know—I'll just call you 'Elizabeth'."

About Spanking

(From The Calgary Herald)

EVERY so often someone is able to drag down a newspaper headline by decrying the punishment of children. This is bound to bring a tear of righteous concordance to the eyes of grandparents and smiles of indulgent satisfaction to the faces of child psychologists. But it is just a pain in the neck to most parents.

For whether the child is by nature good or bad, and mostly he is truly good, we do know that by instinct he can be an embryo savage and that if discipline, verbal, mental and physical, were not applied the results could be frightening to behold.

Imagine that little genius of yours busy at his destructive day, suddenly equipped with the physique of a man and the mind of an adult and multiplied by thousands and you have visualized a nightmare world of monsters, a planet overrun with Giles' fiendish caricatures and Charles Addams' little ghouls. Reasoning, isolation, kindness are essential, but at a certain point they are of no avail in curbing the anti-social spirit. Then discipline of the physical kind must be invoked and better it be invoked by those who love the child than later by the impersonal hand of society.

We have seen too many of the "unspanked" children grow up to be anti-social spoil sports to feel that spanking is a confession of failure in the parents. This does not mean, on the other hand, that we advocate the iron hand, the stern, implacable father of old. A sense of discipline is the backbone of our society and without that self-control, developed by the parent's hand where necessary, that society would be, if you can imagine it, even worse than that to which we now belong.

Neglected Left-Handers

By THOMAS R. HENRY
Science Editor, North American Newspaper Alliance

THERE are between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 left-handed persons in the United States. This is the estimate, announced through the American Association for the Advancement of Science here, of Dr. D. C. Rife, professor of genetics at Ohio State Medical College, who has been trying to determine the relative effects of heredity and environment in producing this condition. It often has been attributed solely to one or the other.

By and large, he found, the southpaws are a sadly neglected group. "Most standard equipment," he said, "is made for right-handers. Members of the military forces are trained to shoot from the right shoulder, to aim with the right eye. The chairs in most schoolrooms are made for right-handers. Zippers, on clothing, the arrangement of violin strings, and the design of grass sickles afford familiar examples of conventional conformity to right-handed standards."

* * *

This would not be so bad, Rife said, if it could be demonstrated that left-handedness results from early environment. Then, with sufficient effort, left-handers could be trained into right-handers. Unfortunately, the hereditary element, which cannot be changed, appears to be very large.

"There is," he said, "a positive correlation between the handedness of parents and children. When both parents are left-handed, about half the children are left-handed. When only one parent is left-handed, about one child in six is left-handed. When both parents are right-handed only one child in 16 is left-handed. These findings are what might be expected if handedness is hereditary, but they do not necessarily prove it."

Nearly 20 per cent of identical twins, he pointed out, show differences in handedness. Such twins come from the splitting of a single embryo. Hence, they have exactly the same heredity. It might be assumed from such evidence that handedness is entirely a matter of environment.

In this situation, Rife pointed out, it is necessary to postulate a joint heredity-environment effect. Many are born right-handers or left-handers, and there is little to be done about it. On the other hand, many are born ambi-dextrous, able to use each hand with equal dexterity or with only a slight inclination to favor one hand or the other. What they become depends on early training or what adults they imitate in childhood.

* * *

"Functional handedness, like the majority of human variations," he said, "is an end product of the interaction of heredity and environment. Both are important, and the relative part played by each depends upon the individual, but, in view of the fact that heredity does play an important part, left-handers should be provided with facilities to express their natural preferences."

The thesis has been advanced in the past that when efforts are made to change a left-hander to a right-hander, there may be very unfortunate results, such as stammering. This, again, it is held, depends on the individual. It would only occur in persons with a deep-seated genetic tendency to favor one hand or the other. This tendency would permeate the individual.

BURNED OUT

Sir,—My wife and I wish to thank our neighbors, members of her children's orchestra, members of the Victoria City Kennel Club, Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association, Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club and our many, many other friends for their help, gifts and letters of sympathy which we very greatly appreciate. It has been a wonderful help to our spirits to receive such aid and expressions of sympathy from so many people after our recent fire.

PENSION BONUS

Sir,—Last session the Hospital Insurance Act was amended against the wishes of the people. We know the result.

At the special session discussion took place regarding old age pensions and bonuses. Had we made our wishes heard through the medium of our representatives, no doubt the Government might have acted differently. I hope we have learned a lesson and will make our wishes known re old age pension bonuses.

The basic pension is $40 a month. This has been augmented by a $10 cost of living bonus from the province. Now, when cost of living is at an all time high they propose to grade the bonus. It is reasonable that all should not receive it, but those who are already in receipt of it should continue to have its benefit, otherwise these old people are put to the trouble and anxiety of adjusting their very small means and going without.

However, the worst feature is the scale of grading $1 to $10. The amount of $1 a month is ridiculous and insulting. If it is necessary to grade, then at least make it reasonable, $5 to $10. To suggest augmenting a pension by $1 does not even show common sense.

When our M.L.A.'s voted themselves an extra indemnity there was no grading or rind paring. Messrs. Johnson, Anscomb and Wismer received the same as the back benchers. We have all been pleased to present a gift to our Princess recently, but here again if we cannot afford to look after those in need decently then we cannot afford diamonds and expensive cars and decorations to ballrooms. This is only logical.

Cowichan Newcastle wrote over 600 letters to their M.L.A. re hospital insurance and as a result he voted against the measure. I hope other constituencies will follow their example this time.

KURT MEYER CASE

Sir,—Some late acts of official Canadian justice leave a queer taste. Kurt Meyer, convicted of responsibility of murdering Canadian soldiers, was sentenced to die for the crime. He was reprieved, brought over to Canada and given a cushy job in an eastern penitentiary. Now, back in Germany, it will only be a short time until he is a free man again.

Why all the tenderness for this Nazi general who ordered his men to take no prisoners?

The Count de Bernonville case is remembered. This French traitor was found guilty of betraying members of the French Resistance, Allied soldiers and probably some Canadians to their death. He was harbored here for several years, even after gaining illegal entry to this country. Why did the powers that be keep this man in the country for so long? Presumably he must have some powerful friends near Ottawa or he would have been sent back to France long ago to face his just desserts.

This is not to condone killing or allied crimes by anyone, but contrast the above with the recent case of the Canadian soldiers in Korea.

Many soldiers, according to the reports, took part in the crime but one Canadian was given life by our own courts, probably to make an example.

To coddle a Nazi war criminal and a French traitor while being so drastic with our own people hardly makes sense. I wonder what the relatives of the murdered men think?

Fun, Fact and Fiction

A statistician points to the fact that there are more women than men eligible to vote, and adds that with their plurality women could vote themselves anything they wanted. But why bother? They seem to be doing all right as it is.

"Do you always buy three fish lines at a time?" inquired the talkative clerk.

"Yes, I do," replied the man who looked ahead. "My wife will borrow one for wrapping parcel post packages, my son will use another for flying a kite and I will have the third for fishing."

Official—What can he do?

Politician—Nothing.

Official—That simplifies it. Then we won't have to break him in.

"The food at Paradise Manor was awful," complained the homecoming tourist. "Every mouthful was poison, positive poison. And, to make it worse, the portions were so small!"

Help for Storm Victims

Jack Spratt (left), John Maguire and Winston Reynolds (right) start to load 20-pound clothing cartons for shipment to victims of the recent hurricane in Jamaica. Ninety-three of the boxes were sent yesterday. Another 15 boxes of lightweight clothing, donated by Victorians for the storm victims, will be sent as soon as the storm committee raises funds to cover shipping costs. Men's Fair Big Hit

The second annual country fair, staged by male members of Sir James Douglas School P.T.A., was reported an even greater success than their first venture last year.

A crowd of about 1,200 jostled through the school buildings buying everything from home-made jams and jellies to used children's clothing.

The stall of used clothing was a new idea that the men stole from the women of the organization. They had seen the women hold bazaars and sell old clothing at a profit.

The rush on the new stall was more than they had anticipated. The four women in the booth were kept busy handing out-driven's shoes, coats, dresses and all other items for school wear.

Prices on clothing ranged from five cents to $1 or whatever the buyer wanted to give.

L. H. Noble, convener of the fair, said it was hoped to exceed last year's net profit of $350.

"We're doing a land-office business now," he said.

Dilworth Given Key Radio Post

Dr. Ira Dilworth, a former principal of Victoria High School and professor at the University of British Columbia, Friday was appointed director of program production for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The well-known educator will be going to Toronto soon to take up his new post. Before his appointment, he was director-general of the C.B.C.'s international service, with headquarters at Montreal.

Dr. Dilworth taught English and French at Victoria High from 1915 to 1919 and from 1920 to 1926, after which he was made principal, a post he held until 1934.

Decision Held In Court Case Against City

Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane yesterday in a Supreme Court case for $236 and special damages against the City of Victoria.

The city is being sued by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Laverdure for injuries suffered by their 10-year-old son, Norman.

He suffered multiple fractures to his right arm when he fell into a seven-foot ditch.

R.C.M.P. Seize 600,000 Smokes

SHERBROOKE, Que., Nov. 2 (CP)—R.C.M.P. officials reported today what they said was the "largest seizure of American cigarettes ever made in Canada"—600,000 smokes taken from two men during the night. Their names were not released. The men were arrested on a road about 25 miles from this eastern township's centre.

Strike End Delayed

The strike of 500 brewery workers, 75 of them in Victoria, may remain unsettled for at least another five days.

Edward Simms, international union officer acting in liaison between the strikers and the five companies concerned, is attending business in eastern Canada, union officials said in Victoria. He is not expected in Vancouver until about Wednesday.

There were no reports of company-union negotiations, according to Henry Pottinger, of the Victoria local of the C.C.L. union.

A beer drought appeared certain by Monday in Greater Victoria. Tudor and Half-Way Houses are closed and Gorge Hotel expects to be dry today. Bottled beer only will be available as long as supplies last at Six-Mile House. Colwood Inn is expected to run out today. Goldstream Hotel expects to continue operations until Monday.

The only certain beer supply will be at the new Sidney Hotel, opening Monday.

Salmon Men Mull Over Gear, Dams

Restoration of salmon runs in the Fraser and in Alaska, and the problems that face the fishing industry in regard to dams on migratory streams, were discussed at the closing meeting of the Association of Pacific Fisheries here.

The big problem facing the fishing industry now is dealing with the tremendous increase in fishing gear in the salmon waters, according to Clarence Rhode, Juneau delegate.

"The roughest part of restoring the productivity of the runs is behind us," Mr. Rhode said.

Wary Enthusiasm Greets First B.C. Oil Strike

B.C. oilmen and provincial government officials are cautiously waiting to see whether B.C. has a genuine oil bonanza on its hands or whether Thursday's Peace River strike was just a fluke.

Half a dozen oil companies, who don't want to miss any bets, have already applied for permits to explore vast tracts of land near Fort St. John, where Pacific Petroleum has reported B.C.'s first oil find.

But, cautious department of lands officials wanted to see more definite proof before throwing their hats in the air.

They said it was quite possible Pacific Pete had probed an isolated pocket of oil.

FORMATION GOOD

But, they admitted, the Pacific well is the same type of geological formation as the northern Alberta fields just across the border.

They said tests scheduled for next Wednesday or Thursday should show definitely if Pacific has hit the jackpot.

If it has, the implications would be enormous. B.C. might eventually be able to fill its own quota of 40,000 barrels a day and still have enough left for export to the United States.

Significant amounts of natural gas might mean cheap heating for B.C. homes and might entice new industries to the province.

PIPELINE ROUTE

Establishment of a major field at Fort St. John might decide the Board of Transport Commissioners in favor of a northern route for a proposed gas pipeline from Alberta. Three applications already have been made.

The Peace River find was made by a pioneer firm in the area. When the province's Coal and Petroleum Board opened for business Nov. 5, 1947, Pacific Pete was one of its first customers. The company and its associates hold exploration permits for 2,000,000 acres in the area.

Pacific had drilled 16 dry holes in the Peace River district before hitting oil.

Late Thursday, after 20 tests of the 17th hole had been discouraging, the drill struck oil.

OIL IN STEM

The 21st drillstem test brought gas to the surface from the 5,633-to-5,655-foot depth in four minutes. An hour and a half later the drillstem was removed.

It showed 900 feet of green oil, 480 feet of salt water and 125 feet of mud bubbling with natural gas.

The oil rated 38.7 degrees by American Petroleum Institute standards. This, according to B.C. oil controller Dr. T. B. Williams, is "a very good grade."

Now the Pacific group plans to deepen the well another 12 feet, then make an electrolog test and case the well.

AWAIT EQUIPMENT

Progress is stalled at the moment, awaiting arrival in Fort St. John of cementing equipment and the electrolog, an instrument for recording the type and depth of rock formations.

Production tests won't be started until Wednesday at the earliest.

In the meantime, Pacific Pete is continuing to sink another well nearby.

The Pacific exploration group consists of Canadian Atlantic Oil, which holds 27 per cent; Hudson Bay Oil and Union Oil, each 12½ per cent; Pacific Petroleum, Peace River Natural Gas and Sunray Oil, each 10 per cent; William Innes, Vancouver oil operator, 10 per cent; Norman R. Whittal Co., 4.14 per cent; and Empire Petroleum, 3.86 per cent.

For sale or lease, in a very fast growing upper Vancouver Island town a well established lumber and builders' supply business. Handling all types of materials also sand and gravel. Owner has other interests locally.
Only a small amount of cash necessary as it is more important to release present owner of the duties than the money involved. Will sell for half the value for a quick sale or lease. Excellent fishing and hunting in this district.

London Market Scores Losses

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP).—Fear of drastic action by the new government to deal with Britain's threatening economic crisis caused persistent selling and widespread losses on the London stock market today.

It was the market's fifth day of losses in a row and today's trading session lopped about £200,000,000 off values. So far the non-stop slump following the Oct. 25 British general election has knocked about £800,000,000 off stock exchange values.

British government bonds weakened badly today, with losses ranging up to ⅞ of a point. Declines of as much as two shillings sixpence were numerous in the industrial list.

The Financial Times daily index of London stocks today was off 2.0 at 130.2.

Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 77s 9d; Boots Pure Drug 25s 6d; Canadian Pacific $67¾; Central Mining £2¼; Consolidated Gold Fields 51s 6d; Courtaulds 49s 1½d; Hudson's Bay Co. 160s; Imperial Chemical 50s 10½d; Imperial Tobacco, 97s 6d; Metal Box, 52s 3d; Rand Mines, 137s 6d.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, Nov. 2 (CP).—The American dollar today closed at 4 9/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, down 3/32 from Thursday's close. That is, it took $1.04 9/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.92⅛, down 5/16 from Thursday.

Oil Discovery Spurs Buying At Vancouver

By AP and CP

Discovery of oil in British Columbia's Fort St. John district started a rush of buying yesterday on the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

Oils moved higher in early trading and most gains were maintained throughout the day. Most of the gains, however, were made during a hectic morning session.

The new well was drilled by Pacific Petroleums Ltd., and Pacific Pete and allied company shares showed sharp gains in stock market trading.

Pacific Pete closed at $11.35 a share, an advance of 60 cents. Earlier, it had advanced to around $11.40. Peace River Gas, an associate company, bounced from around $3.50 to $5 price range.

QUIET RETREAT

In New York, a quiet retreat carried the stock market down in the slowest session in more than two months.

Prices were marked down all around without evidence of selling pressure.

The volume of trading came to only 1,230,000 shares, the lowest since Aug. 27.

The AP average of 60 stocks lost 70 cents at $96.20.

At Toronto, steadily weakening support eased stock market prices from Thursday's strong advance.

Constructions, led by the $3.75 jump of Canada Cement, formed the market's strongest section. Utilities and banks held firm but agriculture, foods, liquors and manufacturing companies turned mixed. Steels, textiles and retail stores weakened.

MIXED PRICE RANGE

In Montreal, stock prices settled into a narrowly mixed price range toward the close of the stock exchange and curb market after an irregular higher opening. Trading was extremely slow.

In Winnipeg, coarse grain futures prices showed sharp advances on the grain exchange.

BONDS QUIET

MONTREAL, Nov. 2 (CP).—Trading was quiet with prices mainly unchanged on the Montreal bond market today. In the corporations, C.P.R. convertibles were again active and up.

Business Notes

EDMONTON, Nov. 2 (CP) — The Alberta Conservation Board has set at 137,989 barrels the daily allowable oil production for November. This is a cutback from the 151,902 barrels daily allowed in October and is due to the decreased market for refined oil products during the winter.

The Redwater field may produce 60,346 barrels of crude daily against 73,396 barrels last month. Leduc has a slightly higher quota, 45,485 barrels compared with 45,281 in October. The allowable for Acheson-Stony Plain is down from 4,877 to 3,819 barrels daily.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—Carloadings on Canadian railways decreased during the week ended October 27 to 88,422 cars compared with 89,202 cars for the previous week and 92,516 cars for the corresponding week a year ago.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today that increases were registered in loadings of livestock, coal and coke. Declines were shown in loadings of grain, ore, building materials, pulpwood and lumber.

EDMONTON, Nov. 2 (CP) — Mayor Sidney Parsons said today he expects an early solution to the problem of a site for a factory proposed for Edmonton by Canadian Industries Ltd.

The city objected to the original location chosen because it plans a housing development in the area.

If the plant is built, it will give Edmonton a second chemical industry. Canadian Chemical Co. Ltd. is building a $54,000,000 plant just east of the city.

TIOGA, N.D., Nov. 2 (AP) — North Dakota counted its fourth wildcat oil well today.

The Math Iverson No. 1, nine miles south of here, flowed oil to the surface during a three-hour drill stem test last night. Bob Davidson, Northern Development Co. drill pusher, estimated the flow at 40 barrels per hour. The test was taken at the 8,360-8,500-foot level.

The well is the fourth in the area around Tioga.

TITANIUM SOURCE

Ore deposits at Lake Allard, Quebec, are believed to be the world's largest single source in titanium.

Normally Goes to Lakehead

Prairie Wheat Diversion To Vancouver Requested

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2 (CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board today asked elevator companies to divert to Vancouver some of Saskatchewan's top grade, dry wheat which normally goes to the Lakehead.

The board said the purpose of the switch is to get as much dry grain as possible to Vancouver because of the high percentage of tough grain now moving to that port from Alberta stations which will require drying.

The board requested elevator companies at 126 Saskatchewan points to ship all wheat which is expected to grade Dry 1, 2, 3 or 4 Northern to Vancouver. Wheat which is expected to grade tough or damp of these grades will continue to go to Fort William.

Points affected have a freight differential in favor of Fort William of one cent per 100 pounds. A board spokesman said the wheat board will absorb the difference in shipping cost since the elevator companies bought the grain on the basis of Fort William delivery.

Jetliners to Fly To Rome, Cairo

LONDON, Nov. 2 (Reuters).—Britain's Comet jetliners will start making regular scheduled flights to Rome and Cairo in about two months, British Overseas Airways said today. The 490-mile-an-hour planes will carry only freight for the first few trips so that pilots can get used to the new type of plane.

PROFITS REDUCE LABOUR... BUT INCREASE JOBS

Sounds confusing but it isn't. Profits pay for new machines and equipment which mean more efficient production with shorter working hours and less physical effort . . . therefore profits reduce labour. Profits pay for new product research, new plants and new development. This means the employment of more men. Therefore profits reduce labour but increase jobs.*

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company has continually "ploughed back" a substantial part of its profits to modernize its plants, develop new mines and expand its operations. In the first years of its operation Cominco employed around 175 men. Today, this great company provides jobs for over 8,500. Many more jobs at wages many times that of the early days . . . all made possible by "company profits."

* $63,000,000 from Company profits is now being spent on new projects. The completion of these projects will mean the addition of 800 permanent jobs.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is one of the largest producers of lead and zinc in the world and Canada's leading producer of chemical fertilizers.

Clippers Get 4-3 Victory OnMainland

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP).—Nanaimo Clippers scored all their goals in the second period [illegible] Kerrisdale Monarchs 4-3 in a Pacific Coast Senior Amateur Hockey League game. It was Kerrisdale's third straight loss to Nanaimo.

Bill Wilson put Monarchs ahead with the only goal of the first period but Nanaimo gunned ahead for its big lead in the second on two goals by Angelo Defelice and singles by Bill Snider and Hermie Gruhn.

SUMMARY

Nanaimo — Jackson; Brown, Kirk, McDougald, Fennell, Lindmark, Defelice, Carr, Shamlock, Gruhn, Snider, Culley, Berry.

Kerrisdale — Worrall; Ritchie, Lees, Vickery, Wilson, Rittinger, Lynch, Huddleston, Schmidt, Chmell, Sims, Lewsey, Mutcheson, Swanson.

First period — 1, Kerrisdale, Wilson (Rittinger) 1.42. Penalty: Carr.

Second period — 2, Nanaimo, Defelice (Lindmark) 5.31; 3, Nanaimo, Snider (Culley) 7.01; 4, Nanaimo, Gruhn (Shamlock) 9.38; 5, Nanaimo, Defelice (Culley) 17.10. Penalties: Huddleston (2), Kirk, Brown.

Third period — 6, Kerrisdale, Rittinger, 1.08; 7, Kerrisdale, O. Schmidt (Lewsey) 17.08. Penalty: McDougald.

Severson Star In Hoop Game

Sparked by lacrosse star Whitey Severson, Orphans romped to a 50-32 triumph over Brentwood Aces in a Saanich and Suburban Basketball League at Brentwood last night. Severson pushed up 12 points to lead both clubs.

Bill Benn and Bill Jones shared scoring honors for the losers with 11 points each and Bernie Clarkson added 10 for the winners.

Line-ups follow:

Orphans—Duncan 7, Bryant 8, Severson 12, Patterson 1, Smith 2, Fields 8, Clarkson 10. Total 50.

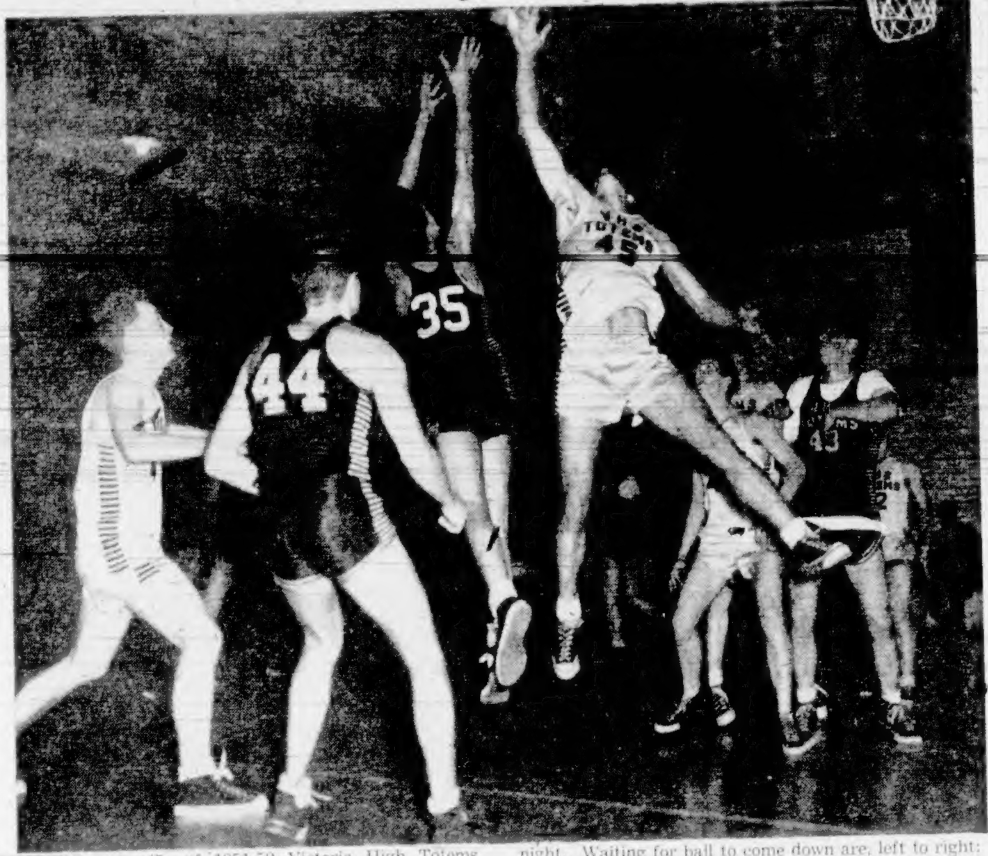

Brentwood—Bluggett 4, M. Benn 11, P. Benn 4, Hafer 2, Jones 11, Lee. Total 32.

Luby Rehired

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 2 (AP) — The Salem Senators of the Western International League last night re-hired Hugh Luby as manager for 1952.

Luby, who played in 122 of the Senators' 142 games and batted .307, said the team would hold its spring training at Calistoga, Calif.

Decision on Status of Individuals In Cage Group Expected Late Today

A final decision will be made on the status of Victoria Individuals this afternoon.

Gar Taylor, publicity man for the Victoria and District Basketball Association, told The Colonist last night that the Individuals had been given until 6 p.m. today to decide whether they would operate under association sponsorship in the Inter-City Basketball League or not.

Coach Norm Baker stated that the decision would be made by player vote today but that it appears likely that the team will refuse the sponsorship and operate independently, playing exhibition games against touring American and Canadian teams.

EXHIBITION FAVORED

Baker said he felt the I.C.B.L. would not draw without Bellingham and thought Individuals could make out better financially on the exhibition basis.

Will Cain, president of the B.C. Amateur Basketball Association, reported that the Vancouver Basketball Commission had informed him that they would send the first Vancouver team to Victoria on a contingency basis to guarantee that Victoria would not lose at the gate. It would serve as a test basis for other games between Individuals and Mainland teams.

ALBERNI CONFIDENT

He said that Alberni, one of the prime movers of the I.C.B.L., was still confident that the league could operate successfully and is agreeable to carrying through the schedule without the Bellingham entry. He thought that Individuals should follow suit for the good of basketball, forgetting all past differences with the V.D.B.A.

The V.D.B.A. has agreed to co-operate fully with Individuals if they turn independent and will offer financial assistance if it decides to stay under-league sponsorship.

If Individuals turn independent, they would require permission from the B.C.A.B.A. on a game-to-game basis in order to play visiting teams or turn outlaw completely and be barred from championship playoffs.

Baker also disclosed last night that he had been informed that the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association is not likely to approve his application for reinstatement until next March. He said he would apply on a game-to-game basis to play with Individuals in exhibition games but would not be able to compete in championship play.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Victoria United is still looking for a manager to replace Tom Restell, but president George Eade could, perhaps, come up with an ideal solution by combining the positions of coach and manager and asking Wallace Milligan to take over. There is no great need for both manager and coach and there would be fewer views to conflict.

With the manager entitled to sign players, select the team and make any changes he feels necessary during the course of a match, the coach is practically reduced to the status of a glorified trainer. It is understandable that this sometimes should prove galling. He must have his ideas on who is best suited to play the football he is teaching and it is inevitable that his opinions will often differ from those of the manager.

By the same token, it is understandable that the manager feels it is his responsibility to put together the best club he can and wants to be the sole judge of what constitutes the best club. Under any arrangement of divided authority, he is bound to feel handicapped.

Although Restell had to make a lot of sacrifices to act as manager of United and could, as he stated in resigning, ill afford to spare the time, it seems probable that divided authority played some part in his decision. The United team has been selected for each match by a selection committee composed of Eade, Milligan and Restell, and although this is the practice in England, it apparently didn't work for United. It has some disadvantages, the chief of which is that the manager is unable to enforce discipline because players he feels should sit one out have the chance to get the ears of other members of the selection committee.

Whatever the reason, it is too bad that Restell is no longer with the club. The United team which is making such an excellent showing is the same club which he and George Kulai put together last year and which began to show promise of better things late last season. He can feel that he played a major role in the redemption of Victoria football.

As for the future, Eade and Milligan can carry on and do the same fine job they have been doing. A bigger role for the trainer in workouts would enable one man to act in a dual capacity of coach and manager and it might save a repetition. A figure-head as manager would solve no problems and a man who could do a good job will undoubtedly feel that he should be delegated with final authority on playing personnel.

Random Harvest

Bob Sturgeon, hoping to return as manager of Victoria Athletics next season, writes to state he has accepted a job as executive secretary for the March of Dimes campaign at Long Beach and expects to be instrumental in raising a projected $100,000 for this worthy cause. . . . Ivan Carr, outside right for New Westminster Royals, has been named as soccer coach at U.B.C. . . . It seems that the effort to form an inter-city basketball league is having nothing but trouble, but this corner doesn't believe the loss of Bellingham should necessarily be fatal. Good basketball will bring the sport back without international competition, and if the basketball is not good, Bellingham wouldn't make the league a success. . . . New York baseball fans apparently aren't too happy about the possibility of Ted Williams joining the Yankees. Letters to general manager George Weiss show only one out of 10 favoring the Boston problem child. However, Williams is admittedly a good ball player and he could become the performer he should be in a Yankee uniform. It seems to have a magical effect. . . . Reports are reaching here that Ted Reynolds is distorting the facts about a September fishing trip to Qualicum Beach. As much as it hurts to say it, the truth is that Stan Williams is absolutely correct in his claim that he felt so sorry for the luckless radiocaster that he gave Ted his rod at least twice after getting a fish on. . . . A crowd of 11,251 paid turned out at Montreal Forum last week to watch Harlem Globe Trotters in action. . . . In the first 10 games played by Tacoma Rockets, Doug Adam scored 13 goals while his teammates managed 22. . . . Montreal Royals, who have a lot of players who would look good in a Cougar uniform, averaged over 7,000 for their first three home games in the Quebec Senior Hockey League. . . . Germain Leger, younger brother of Victoria's Roger, is again doing well in the Q.S.H.L. for Chicoutimi. In a recent game he scored twice, including the winner, as Saguenays edged Sherbrooke, 3-2. . . . Sandy Milne, who will be remembered as a big and tough defenseman with Portland two seasons ago, is playing for Sherbrooke.

Ex-Totem Cage Squad Defeats Vic High Team

By IAN GLENDAY

Victoria High School Totems opened their 1951-52 home basketball season in the school gym last night, dropping a 26-19 decision to the Ex-Totems squad.

Although baskets were at a premium due to the nervousness of the players, Totems showed that they will have to be reckoned with after they have a few more games under their belts.

Play opened slowly as both teams seemed to be feeling each other out, and the first quarter score read 8-1 for the Ex-Totems. In the second quarter, the graduates built up their lead on successive baskets by Garner, Woollett, Hendry and Burton. The home team picked up after the half and slowly narrowed the visitors' lead to four points. However, the Ex-Totems managed to hold on until the final whistle.

Don Hendry and Ced. Robb with six points apiece paced the winners, while Jack Shields was the big gun for Victoria High with eight.

An accident marred the contest when Archie McIntosh and Len Anderson, captain of the Totems, collided. Both boys required stitches, but their injuries were not serious.

In a preliminary contest, Totems' B squad racked up an easy 58-21 win against an all-star junior team. Martin Boyland pushed in 12 points for the winners and Nelson Hughes scored all but three of the juniors' points for the best individual effort of the night.

A 20-piece band, the colorful majorettes and cheerleaders provided extra entertainment.

Totems' next home game will be Thursday against last year's Island champs, Alberni High School.

Line-ups:

Totems "B" team: Ash 8, Whan 10, Donahue 6, Zarry 8, Woollett 4, Boyland 12, Abbott 7—58.

Junior All-Stars: Simpson, Bryce, Bourg, Norton, Rutherford, McKay, Hughes 18, Harrison 3, Davis, McMillan—21.

Ex-Totems: Woollett 3, Fraser 2, Hendry 6, Burton 4, Garner 2, McIntosh, Robb 6—26.

Totems "A": Anderson, Irvington, Clarke 4, Jahraus 3, Shields 8, Pederson, Kirchner 2, Oakley, Hodges—19.

Lost to Cougars

REG ABBOTT

Victory over Calgary last night was costly to Victoria Cougars. Checked heavily in first period, Abbott suffered shoulder injury later diagnosed as separation. He will be out of action for approximately six weeks and his absence breaks up Cougars' kid line. Ed Dorohoy will continue to centre Bob Frampton and Andy Hebenton tonight with Jack McIntyre moving from right wing to centre of Dorohoy's old line. Bob Bowness will be at left wing and Leon Bouchard, who played there after Abbott was hurt last night, and Fred Hildebrand will share right-wing duties against Vancouver Canucks tonight. Doug Anderson-Joe Evans-Joe Medynski line remains intact.

Football Group Changes Plans For Park Tilts

Don Gray, secretary of the Victoria and District Football Association, announced last night that changes have been made in the venue of week-end games because of improvements being made in the drainage at Royal Athletic Park by the parks board.

The game between Victoria West and Legion, originally scheduled at the Caledonia Avenue enclosure this afternoon, has been switched to Lower Beacon Hill at 2.30 p.m. The Esquimalt-Duncan game, previously billed for Lower Beacon Hill, has been moved to Bullen Park at 2.30.

The Heaneys-Alcos' game will be played at Duncan tomorrow at 2.45 as scheduled.

U.K. Batsmen Fail to Solve Indian Bowling

NEW DELHI, Nov. 2 (Reuters) —England today was dismissed for 203 runs by India on the opening day of their cricket test match.

The pitch, thought to be a batsman's paradise, instead helped the slow bowlers and not one of England's batsmen looked really comfortable against the spin bowling.

Jack Robertson (5), Don Kenyon (35) and Alan Watkins (40) made some effort to knock the bowlers off their length, but they all paid the penalty eventually.

Wrecker-in-chief of England's batting was leg spinner S. G. Shinde, who took six wickets for 91.

India has yet to win an official test against England.

Next games, tonight: Vancouver at Victoria, Seattle at Tacoma, Calgary at New Westminster, Edmonton at Saskatoon.

"We worked hard tonight and if we play the same way tomorrow, we won't have any worries."

It was a tired Roger Leger speaking after last night's P.C.H.L. game at Memorial Arena and the coach of the Victoria Cougars summed it up well. Hard work and a brilliant Jim Shirley were the main reasons the Cougars snapped a three-game losing streak with a 3-0 triumph, their first shutout of the season, over Calgary Stampeders.

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Shirley, as if in answer to the challenge posed by the return of Jerry Cotnoir, last season's netminder, came up with his best display of the season in a goalie's battle with Calgary's Russ Dertell and deservedly came out on top.

He was particularly good in the latter part of the second period when Stampeders, never out of the game until Ed Dorohoy's second goal made it 3-0 at the start of the second period, pressed to get back into contention. Any of half a dozen shots might have gone in but for Shirley's alertness and a Calgary counter could have changed the tune.

BATTLE OF GOALIES

Dertell was good, too, particularly in the first period when the Cougars almost settled it while George Agar and Bill Shvetz were in the penalty box. Stampeders didn't show too much speed although big, rugged and experienced, and their forwards either couldn't come back or haven't the inclination to check back. They were the least impressive of the five clubs which have showed here this season.

Cougars pleased another capacity crowd by turning on the speed which won them everything last season. There were times when they ran into their old difficulty in clearing out of their defensive zone and when their passing could have been improved, but they had lots of hustle and the speed of the Calgarians.

NEAT PRESSING PLAY

Flori Goegan, who rushed and defended well, scored what proved to be the only goal Shirley needed after almost 11 minutes and the play with Doug Anderson was a thing of beauty.

Dorohoy scored the other goals on almost identical plays, stickhandling Dertell out of position and flicking the puck behind the Calgary netminder. His first effort came on a fortunate play in which the puck slid clear in front of the goal, the second after Bob Frampton managed to evade Ernie Dickens and get his pass across from the corner.

CANUCKS TONIGHT

It will be Murph Chamberlain, Coley Hall and company as the guests at Memorial Arena tonight and the entertainment value should be high. The Canucks are getting more desperate by the game and would like nothing better than to end their winless streak at the expense of the Cougars.

On the other hand, the Cougars have added incentive in knowing that the opposition is the Canucks, that the Mainlanders are not likely to be any easier in the future, and that, after tonight, seven of their next nine games are away from home. Both teams badly need the points.

SUMMARY

CALGARY — Goal, Dertell; defense, Dickens, Mac Bedard, Shvetz, Tomalty; Thomas, Leier, Wilder, Carse, Tom Anderson, Ashworth, Perko, Hlady, Agar, Goodacre.

Victoria—Goal, Shirley; defense, Engel, Roche, Stronghman, Goegan, Bouchard; forwards, Abbott, Frampton, Hebenton, Dorohoy, Bowness, McIntyre, Doug Anderson, Evans, Medynski.

Third period—3, Victoria, Dorohoy (Frampton) .31. Penalty: Frampton.

New Additions Show Way As Canucks Tie Rockets

Lorne Davis and Hugh Currie, Vancouver Canucks' most recent additions, sparked them to a 3-3 tie with Tacoma Rockets at Vancouver last night.

The result left the Canucks still seeking their first victory of the Pacific Coast Hockey League season. In 15 games, they have lost ten and tied five giving them a winless string of 18 games, including the last three of the 1950-51 season.

Currie scored Vancouver's first goal as Rockets took a 3-1 lead in the second period and set up Davis for the second goal in the final period. Ray Manson netted the equalizer with nine minutes left.

CIRCUS ACT

Referee Dick Davis had an easy time although he had a few anxious moments in the final period with Currie and Tacoma's Chuck Macdonald. Both coaches got into the act. Murph Chamberlain of Canucks did a tight-rope walking act along the boards and Muzz Patrick of Rockets gave him a nudge which resulted in Chamberlain hitting the ice.

At Edmonton, the Flyers ran their unbeaten streak to six games by defeating Saskatoon Quakers, 6-4, before 8,000 fans.

SPEEDY HAT-TRICK

Earl (Ching) Johnson sparked the Flyers with a hat-trick in the second period, scored within a space of five minutes.

Referee Eddie Powers, determined to prevent a repetition of Tuesday's brawl at Saskatoon, kept the penalty box busy. He called many trivial penalties overlooked in other games.

U.S. Team Cops 3-1 Lead In Ryder Cup Golf Match

PINEHURST, N.C., Nov. 2 (AP)—The United States Ryder Cup forces wove a pattern of birdies today in the blustery winds and chilling rains that were supposed to favor the Britons and stepped off to a 3-1 lead in the international battle of golf professionals.

The sharp-shooting Americans now only need to win four of Sunday's eight singles assignments to keep the coveted gold trophy they have won six times [illegible]. They are overwhelmingly favored to do better than that.

BRITISH VICTORY

Only the keen putting blade of Charles Ward, a 134-pound mite from Birmingham, and fine iron play of Arthur Lees, greying 43-year-old Yorkshire pro, kept the Britons from suffering a complete rout this miserable day over Pinehurst's No. 2 course.

Ward and Lees, one of the invaders' lightly-regarded tandems, turned back rotund Ed (Porky) Oliver and Henry Ransom, 2 and 1.

But in the other three opening foursome matches, in which players hit the ball alternately, the gentlemen from golf's fabled cradle land couldn't match the strokes of the new world campaigners.

Individual honors today went to curly-headed Jackie Burke, 28-year-old baby of the U.S. squad, and Sam Snead, the Professional Golfers' Association champion, who heads the U.S. forces.

Burke teamed with Clayton Heafner to beat Max Faulkner, British open champion, and Dai Rees, rated Britain's greatest match performer, 5 and 3.

SNEAD ON BEAM

Snead, his irons right on the beam, joined Lloyd Mangrum to down the highly-rated Scottish twosome of Jimmy Adams and John Panton, 5 and 4. Adams and Panton didn't win a hole until the 25th and took only two in the 32 holes played.

The other American point was captured by the U.S. Open champion, Ben Hogan, and Jimmy Demaret. They didn't come up with the best golf of the day but produced enough to beat Irish Fred Daly and young Ken Bousfield 5 and 4.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

The golfer who dips his left knee in his backswing leads a sorry life. As a result his left side sags and his head is lowered. When he swings down from the top he knows, instinctively, that he must reverse all the foregoing actions in order to return to the address position when club meets ball. That can't be done—not with the precision which a golf swing demands. The left knee dipper must change to a left knee leveller. This is the way to keep knees level. As you swing back keep your head in the address position. Don't sway it—up or down, backward or forward. Keep your knees level—and avoid left side sag—by lifting your left heel in the backswing. Meantime you grip the ground with your left toe and the side of the sole of your left foot. Do this and in your downswing you have a straight left side to lever against.

Decoy Hitched to Live Carp Latest Duck-Hunting Device

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Nov. 2 (AP)—A decoy hitched to a live carp is a new duck-hunting wrinkle uncovered in this area.

Harold Knight, Rock Island county conservation officer, said he was informed of the new stunt by a federal officer. The officer said a duck hunter approached him in Illinois River duck hunting region and asked if the stunt is legal. The officer said it is legal as far as he knows.

Hunting from a pond, the ingenious hunter puts through the carp's gills a harness that is attached to the decoy. The carp is small enough that it doesn't pull the decoy under water.

The device is limited to use in small areas. If it was used on an open body of water, the carp probably would pull the decoy out of range and out of sight.

Hunters have been trying to fashion lifelike decoys since live decoys were outlawed several years ago.

Richard Incident Closed

MONTREAL, Nov. 2 (AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today that "the incident is terminated" and there will be no further action regarding the hockey brawl last night during the Toronto Maple Leafs-Montreal Canadiens game.

Campbell said referee Bill Chadwick "handled the matter satisfactorily" and that "the penalties he gave take care of the situation."

The free-for-all featured fiery Maurice (Rocket) Richard of the Canadiens and his knockout punch of Bill Juzda of the Leafs, a wild aftermath of a battle between Fernie Flaman and Richard.

Richard was given two major penalties and a game misconduct penalty, Flaman a single major and game misconduct. Juzda was given a major and so was captain Butch Bouchard of the Canadiens for his supporting role in the fighting.

The game misconduct penalties each carried a $50 fine.

Campbell said he has not yet had a report on an incident of the previous night when the teams met in Toronto and Richard is reported to have threatened a fan with his stick.

Referee Charged in Basketball Fix

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Referee Sol Levy was charged today with taking a bribe to fix a professional basketball game last November and held under $15,000 bail for a November 13 hearing. Police said six National Basketball Association games were involved, in three of which the referee failed in fix attempts.

An assistant district attorney said the 41-year-old referee from Brooklyn helped involve college players in the mushrooming national scandal by withholding vital information from the police.

Linked by police to gambler-fixer Salvatore Sollazzo, who is accused of paying off Levy, the referee insisted he had done no wrong and taken no money.

It was the first time the professional game had been drawn into the scandal, in which 32 players from seven colleges already are involved.

Specifically, Levy is charged with soliciting and accepting $1,000 to rig the score of an Indianapolis-at-Boston N.B.A. game, November 12, won by Boston 78-75.

TOTAL OF $3,000

District Attorney Frank Hogan said Levy received a total of $3,000 for fixing the final scores of the November 12 game and two other N.B.A. games—Boston at Washington, November 11, and New York at Syracuse, November 19, both in 1950. He said Levy failed in three other attempts to fix scores.

Vincent A. G. O'Connor, an assistant district attorney, said Levy called unnecessary fouls on star players of teams whose scores he was trying to regulate. When a player nears the limit of six personal fouls, he plays cautiously, limiting his effectiveness.

Mrs. E. Matson Captures Honors In Colwood Series

Mrs. Elizabeth Matson swept the honors in a series of women's golf competitions at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club this week.

Mrs. Matson won the Autumn Cup with an average low net of 71½ for three medal rounds, took the Nichol Trophy for a low gross score of 258 in the same competitions, and won a silver spoon for low gross in the final medal round.

Miss M. Mahouney was runner-up for the Autumn Cup and Nichol Trophy. Medal round winners were Mrs. L. C. G. d'Easum, Mrs. W. Cotton and Mrs. J. Browett.

CRUSADERS' LINE-UP

Crusaders' line-up for the English rugby game against J.B.A.A. at Macdonald Park this afternoon follows: J. Shipley, Ainsworth, Morris, Taylor, K. Bridge, A. Williams, R. Shipley, Vidler, Bardon, Stead, Calton, Burnett, Hicks, Pinekard, Ramsay and N. Williams.

Salmon Heads Swim Squad

Peter Salmon, Victoria's top swimming star, has been elected president of the first year class of medical students at the University of Washington.

The British Empire Game and Olympic Games star is attending the University of Washington Medical School at Seattle and will swim for the Huskies in conference competition this year.

Uplands Winners

Mrs. G. Verley was a double winner at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday, defeating Mrs. J. D. Ferguson in the final of the Landsdowne Cup competition and winning the silver division of the monthly medal play with a card of 92-17—75.

Mrs. R. Purves carded a 95-22—73 to take top honors in the bronze division of the medal play.

Mrs. W. Smith was consolation winner in the cup competition with Mrs. W. More runner-up. Medalist was Mrs. C. H. Harrell.

Funeral Today For Carol Milne

DUNCAN, Nov. 2 — Funeral services for Carol Judy Milne, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Milne, Cowichan Lake, will be held in Hirst Funeral Chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday. Burial will be in Mountain View Cemetery, Somenos.

Besides her parents, Carol is survived by a sister, Shirley; a brother; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Milne and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hayward in Saskatchewan.

Collision Causes Slight Damage

A collision at the intersection of Quebec and Menzies late last night resulted in minor damage to two automobiles.

A car driven by Gordon W. Brooks of 3280 Douglas, sustained a torn front fender and a dented wheel, the other, driven by John B. Rutherford, 229 Island Highway, sustained slight damage to a rear fender.

Rain Forecast For Week End

Fireside chats will be best for the week-end, according to the weatherman.

Showers are expected this afternoon and tomorrow with winds of 15 miles an hour in Victoria area and up to 35 miles an hour in the Nanaimo district.

A gale warning remains in effect for the west coast.

Men Find Jobs More Plentiful

More men are finding jobs in Victoria, but fewer women are employed, according to the weekly report issued by the National Employment Service.

The demand for specialists in the men's section is not as strong this week as it has been recently, but there is still a demand for sheet metal workers, boilermakers, auto painters, auto body repairmen and railway bridge repairmen.

There is an increase in the demand for experienced waitresses and for sales workers with recent specialized experience.

Mayor Invited To Ceremony

The district council of the Canadian Legion has forwarded an invitation to Mayor Percy George and members of the city council to attend the Remembrance Day ceremony at the Cenotaph, November 11.

The invitation came from C. A. Gill, secretary of the Legion Remembrance Day committee.

Application for Taxi Stand Approved

City Council transportation committee recommended yesterday that Blue Bird Cabs Ltd. be granted permission to occupy a curb stand at 1307 Blanshard Street despite a protest from Island U-Drive Ltd. which recently vacated the stand.

The committee agreed to increase a section of curb on Humboldt Street reserved for D.V.A. patients from 44 to 80 feet.

In order to lengthen the restricted parking area for amputees and paraplegics, a meter zone will be removed and the section reserved for the U.S. Consul reduced from 35 to 22 feet.

Victoria's Jehovah's Witnesses were granted permission to hang a street banner and hold a car parade, but refused permission to hold a bicycle procession on city streets.

The date and route of the parade and location of the banner must first be approved by the chief of police.

The committee approved a recommendation from Sgt. Brooke Douglass that the roadway on Johnson Street bridge be resurfaced. Sgt. Douglass said there had been 12 accidents recently on the bridge, all directly attributed to the condition of the span's surface.

The matter will be referred to the public works committee with a recommendation that the old streetcar rails be removed.

Anniversary Celebration Tomorrow

Centennial United Church will celebrate its 65th anniversary tomorrow.

The first Centennial Church was organized in Victoria North in 1886 and reached final consummation in the dedicating of the present structure.

The present minister, Rev. Roy Ashford, served as a marine missionary aboard the "Jay Tate" and as chaplain in the R.C.A.F. before coming to Victoria.

An anniversary lecture, "This Is Our Heritage," will be given by Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, Monday evening.

B.C. Social Welfare Planner Dies

Dr. Harry Morris Cassidy, 51, the man who planned and established the B.C. Department of Social Welfare, died in a Toronto hospital Friday.

At the time of his death Dr. Cassidy was the director of the University of Toronto's school of social work.

In 1934, provincial secretary Dr. G. M. Weir retained Dr. Cassidy to set up the complicated machinery of the department which he headed until 1939.

During that time, many of the distinguished social welfare expert's recommendations were put into effect. They included tuberculosis control, health units, child welfare services, hospital control, and many other health and welfare services.

Born in Murrayville, B.C., he was a graduate of the University of B.C. At the University of California he was dean of the school of social welfare when he was summoned to Washington in 1944 to take charge of U.N.R.R.A.'s world-wide training activities.

A year ago Dr. Cassidy took his first step into politics when he was runner-up in the race for the Ontario Liberal leadership.

He then went to Egypt as United Nations adviser on social welfare. This year he was invited to take a U.N. assignment in Burma but his illness prevented acceptance.

Dr. Cassidy's widow is the former Beatrice Pearce of Victoria. There are three children.

Potato Price Again Raised

An increase of $10 a ton in potato prices has been authorized by the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, Canadian Press reported yesterday.

The price boost will mean a total increase of about $30 a ton during the past month. Wholesalers earlier this week said prices had already jumped about $20 a ton.

Board chairman Col. A. W. McLelan said the increase is a result of last summer's drought.

The new retail price is six to seven cents a pound, an increase of half a cent.

Lecturer Speaks On Switzerland

Anton R. Lendi, noted Swiss lecturer and world traveler, spoke on economic and cultural life in his native land, and showed a film on the country at First United Church last night.

He stressed the importance of the watch-making industry in Switzerland to the economy of the country.

WOMEN ON THE JOB

HURLEY, Berkshire, Eng. (CP)—Farmers in this district will no longer dread coming home to fill in government forms after a day's work in the fields. Institutes are teaching women how to handle their husbands' paper work.

Anglicans Plan Lay Visitation

Laymen from every Anglican Church in Victoria will take part in the Church of England's annual visitation tomorrow.

With the object of finding 1,000,000 new church members, the same program will be held across Canada.

Laymen will visit inactive members who state their religion as Anglican but do not attend church.

An appeal for donations to the church will be made at the same time. In some parishes there will also be an appeal for the Laymen's Fund.

Parish rectors and other ministers will supervise the visitation, but all actual canvassing will be done by laymen.

Youth Director To Lecture Here

Rev. Gordon McLean, teen-age director of the "Youth for Christ" movement in the Pacific Northwest, will speak and show color slides at the Evangelistic Temple at 7.45 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. McLean began his gospel work touring Vancouver Island with a youth gospel team.

Accompanying him here will be Newt Rasor of Aberdeen, Wash., featured soloist for the evening. Mr. Rasor accompanied Mr. McLean on a 5,000-mile tour of Western Canada recently, and will speak at the Sunday morning service at the Free Methodist Church.

Baptist

EMMANUEL

At the morning baptismal service, Rev. J. E. Smith will speak on "The Believer's Resolution." His evening topic will be "The Cult of the Comfortable," and the service will be followed by The Lord's Supper.

FIRST

There will be a radio broadcast of the morning service at which Rev. G. R. Easter will speak on "What's the Use." In the evening, Mr. Easter will speak on "Fools for Christ's Sake."
